

Review:

Audioplan Powerstar S & Audioplan FineFilter S

Date 8/4/2015

by Dominic Marsh from www.HiFi Pig.com

Extract

..... Most components that don't provide that initial WOW factor from the start and are laced with subtleties throughout generally only make their true presence felt when they depart and the Audioplan pair did exactly that when I took them out of my system. The palpable weight and strength in the bass departed with them, so did the top end detail resolution, as did the midrange power, in fact the system sounded a tad thin and anaemic afterwards and that was with my resident mains conditioner installed once more.

CONCLUSION

I would say that the final paragraph (above) sums up my time with the Audioplan FineFilter and PowerStar pairing perfectly and it would be totally superfluous to add any more here.

It takes living with them full time to appreciate their true worth and if there is any doubt, then I suggest disconnecting them for an hour or so to prove that point unequivocally. For that reason I give a full and deserved recommendation.

Build quality:	8.4/10
Sound quality:	8.4/10
Value for money:	8.4/10
Overall:	8.4/10

Recommended: An understated performance, delivered in an unassuming manner. Price is good value too, so should undoubtedly be on your audition wish list.

Full Review available here: <http://hifipig.com/audioplan-powerstar-sii-mains-block-and-finefilter-s-power-filter/>

Exclusively through
Ikon Audio Consultants
Affordable audio excellence for the UK

Audiomat
Audioplan
ISEM Audio
Symphonic Line

+44 (0) 7956 476299
www.IkonAudioConsultants.com
info@IkonAudioConsultants.com